Meet the team!

Goody Clancy has been selected as the lead firm to develop the Blueprint for Community Investment for the near east side of Columbus. Established in 1955, Goody Clancy is a full-service architecture, planning and urban design and preservation firm.

Seven additional firms will be working with Goody Clancy. The collective team brings over 250 years of experience with an emphasis on the following areas:

- Extensive knowledge of best practices in urban planning from across the country, with an emphasis on unique and tested strategies for urban housing development;
- Expertise in data collection and analysis;
- Ability to identify additional funding tools to leverage against the University's $10m investment; and
- Keen understanding of how to meaningfully engage community stakeholders.
